

December 16, 1913

Jacob Horner, who has made Groton his home for several years, died at Aberdeen yesterday, and the body was brought to Groton for burial yesterday afternoon. Deceased had acted as sexton at Groton Union Cemetery much of the time during recent years. He was taken to Aberdeen some weeks since on account of his enfeebled condition, but could not regain his health. He was a brother of Mrs. Geo. Dickens.
